DEVICE DESCRIPTION

The Fraxel® SR1500 Laser System consists of a fiber laser, controlled by an embedded processor, to be used in dermatology. The laser system uses scanning and focusing optics to deliver a controlled pattern of thermal energy to the epidermis and dermis. Device accessories include tip kits and pre-treatment solution.

K0702P4

INDICATION FOR USE STATEMENT

The Fraxel® SR1500 Laser System is intended for use in:

Dermatological procedures requiring the coagulation of soft tissue;

Treatment of periorbital wrinkles;

Treatment of acne scars and surgical scars;

Photocoagulation for treatment of dyschromia and cutaneous lesions, such as, but not limited to lentigos (age spots), solar lentigos (sun spots), actinic keratosis, and melasma;

Skin resurfacing procedures.

SUBSTANTIAL EQUIVALENCE COMPARISON

Indications for Use

Substantial equivalence for the Fraxel® SR1500 Laser System and Accessories is supported by the predicate devices listed in this submission, which have identical or similar indication statements. The clinical performance data reviewed supported the determination that the Fraxel® SR1500 Laser System and Accessories performs as clinically intended and that no new issues of safety and effectiveness are introduced.

Technological Characteristics

Key technological characteristics of the Fraxel® SR1500 Laser System, such as energy type and operating principle, are identical to the Fraxel® SR1500 Laser System as described in submission K062303.

CONCLUSION

Based on the evaluation described herewithin, the Fraxel® SR1500 Laser System and Accessories is substantially equivalent to the predicate devices currently marketed in accordance with the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. Safety and effectiveness were reasonably assured, justifying 510(k) clearance.

Dear Ms. MacFalls:

We have reviewed your Section 510(k) premarket notification of intent to market the device referenced above and have determined the device is substantially equivalent (for the indications for use stated in the enclosure) to legally marketed predicate devices marketed in interstate commerce prior to May 28, 1976, the enactment date of the Medical Device Amendments, or to devices that have been reclassified in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (Act) that do not require approval of a premarket approval application (PMA). You may, therefore, market the device, subject to the general controls provisions of the Act. The general controls provisions of the Act include requirements for annual registration, listing of devices, good manufacturing practice, labeling, and prohibitions against misbranding and adulteration.

If your device is classified (see above) into either class II (Special Controls) or class III (PMA), it may be subject to such additional controls. Existing major regulations affecting your device can be found in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 21, Parts 800 to 898. In addition, FDA may publish further announcements concerning your device in the Federal Register.

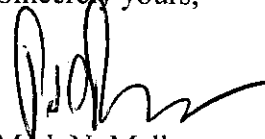

Please be advised that FDA's issuance of a substantial equivalence determination does not mean that FDA has made a determination that your device complies with other requirements of the Act or any Federal statutes and regulations administered by other Federal agencies. You must comply with all the Act's requirements, including, but not limited to: registration and listing (21 CFR Part 807); labeling (21 CFR Part 801); good manufacturing practice requirements as set forth in the quality systems (QS) regulation (21 CFR Part 820); and if applicable, the electronic product radiation control provisions (Sections 531-542 of the Act); 21 CFR 1000-1050.

This letter will allow you to begin marketing your device as described in your Section 510(k) premarket notification. The FDA finding of substantial equivalence of your device to a legally marketed predicate device results in a classification for your device and thus, permits your device to proceed to the market.

If you desire specific advice for your device on our labeling regulation (21 CFR Part 801), please contact the Office of Compliance at (240) 276-0115. Also, please note the regulation entitled, "Misbranding by reference to premarket notification" (21CFR Part 807.97). You may obtain other general information on your responsibilities under the Act from the Division of Small Manufacturers, International and Consumer Assistance at its toll-free number (800) 638-2041 or (240) 276-3150 or at its Internet address <http://www.fda.gov/cdrh/industry/support/index.html>.
